RAILROAD INDICTED

Daviess County, Ky., Grand Jury Charges Absence of Cuspidors.

Owensboro, Ky., Dec. 18.—The Daviess County grand jury returned indictments late yesterday afternoon against the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis, Illinois Central and Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company for failure to provide cuspidors in their coaches. The law on the subject says a cuspidor shall be provided for every seat in the coach. This is the first action of the kind that has ever been taken in the matter. The Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis Company was also indicted for failure to maintain a suitable waiting room for the traveling public in the city of Owensboro.

An Appeal.

THAT CONCERNS EVERY MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD IN THE DARK TOBACCO DISTRICT.

To Whom it May Concern:

There has been a call made for a meeting of the Planters Dark Tobacco Protective Association, to be held in Hopkinsville, Dec. 22, 1904. Now, our county has not had much information in regard to what the Association has done and proposes to do. I want to urge every one to come out to that meeting. Speakers will be there to explain the situation and give you all the information possible. And I further urge that you do not sell your tobacco before you attend or hear from that meeting. There are men working faithfully for our interest in this matter, with a fair chance of success. Our county is said to be behind all the others in the district in organization. This matter is a large undertaking and means hundreds of thousands of dollars to our people, and we should not be too impatient of its progress. Hold your tobacco and help yourselves and friends by so doing. Come out to the meeting. R. F. RIVES.

BRAVE GENERAL NOGI

THE ARBITER OF THE FATE OF PORT ARTHUR.

A Man of Simple Tastes But a Great Fighter and Organizer—His Conception of a Soldier.

New York.—One day it was toward the close of the fifth moon of the thirty-seventh year of Meiji (that is to say, 1894) of the year of Christian grace. Gen. Nogi received a message from his majesty the emperor. It was the pleasure of his majesty, so the message ran, to confer upon Gen. Nogi the highest distinction for the fighting men of Nippon. His majesty appointed him as the commander in chief of our forces besieging Port Arthur, says a Japanese writer in the New York Independent. Gen. Nogi was happy. On the same day came the news of the battle of the Nanshan. To Gen. Nogi the report of the Nanshan battle brought the news of the heroic death of his son, Shoten. The general said:

"I should die so speedily. It was the greatest honor he could have. As for the funeral rites over his memory, they might as well be postponed for awhile. A little later on they may be performed in conjunction with those of the two other members of his family—of Shoten, his brother, and of myself."

Gen. Nogi is the type of soldier upon which the ideals of the elder days of the samurai world look down with pleasure. Some say he is somewhat out of place in the waking days of the new century. Simple, with the rare simplicity of a man who is too great for adjectives, his heart is in somewhat greater things than the polite accomplishments of the day. Both his friends and foes have styled him a peculiar man. He is peculiar in many things. He is peculiar in his conception of the life of a soldier. In these happy days, when the soldiers of so many countries all over the world are given to the gold cloth and parade, he has put his conception of the soldier in the following sentence:

"A soldier is a soldier, after all, and after a man becomes a soldier he must be perfectly willing to lead a life that is somewhat different from the life of an ordinary man in society. It is impossible for him to enjoy liberty and wealth such as so many of his fellow-

GEN. NOGI,
Commanding the Japanese Forces at Port Arthur

men seem to enjoy. I refer to his point more especially because of a simple fact—namely, that the soldier who would perform his duties with credit on a battlefield must, of necessity, have trained himself to perform all that is expected of him in the days of peace. There ought not to be any neglect or any defects in his daily life. The conqueror of himself in the time of peace must be a man if he be worth the honor, with any right, of being a fighting man under the sun-flag."

Unlike so many historic men of fame, who make free gifts of splendid precepts and glittering periods and straightway forget those beautiful virtues in the doings of their daily life, the general did not stop with mere words. There is a famous story told of him of his love for shojinryori. (Now shojinryori means the food prepared for priests and monks.) It was upon his return from Formosa. He was appointed the commander of the Eleventh division, stationed at Zentsu, in the province of Sanuki. The division in question was passing through the busy period of organization. Devoted always, first of all, to his duty to the state, the general left his family in Tokyo. Only three servants accompanied him. Not far from Zentsu there is a modest village called Kinzou Mura; in the village stands a humble temple called Kinzou, after which the village is named. The general found a little corner in the temple which never was meant to entertain anyone or anything more pretentious than an "out-of-the-world" as the monk is called in our country—a man absolutely indifferent to the luxuries of this life. There was a young priest in the temple who did the cooking for everyone who stayed on the compound. Upon the food, which is simple beyond all the dreams of simplicity, the commander of the Eleventh division sustained his life. For four years he lived upon the simple food of the monk.

How Norway Encourages Thrift.
To encourage working people to establish homes of their own, Norway has founded a bank for working men. It lends money at 3½ and 4 per cent, and gives the borrower 40 years to pay the loan. The total cost of the house must not exceed 500, and the area of land must not be more than five acres.

OBSTINATE CASES

Of leucorrhoea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, or falling of womb, attended by weak back, bearing-down sensations, ulceration of womb, pain and tenderness of ovaries, are almost always cured by a fairly persistent use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If in any case it should, in due time, not seem quite adequate to meet every phase of some complicated case, Dr. Pierce always stands ready to offer valuable suggestions based upon years of varied experience which often proves of inestimable value. This he does entirely free of charge to those using his medicines. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear Sir—I once thought I should never enjoy good health again. What I suffered with womb disease worse cannot express. Had distressing heart-drops, pain, painful monthly sickness, backache, constipation, also cold hands and feet at all times. Was all run-down, and there was nothing left of me but a shadow. After I had taken eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, two of his "Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla," also some of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, I was entirely cured. I always keep the remedies on hand now, and recommend them to all my friends. Yours truly,

Mrs. J. M. Brown,
28 4th Street, New York, N. Y.

There is no opium, cocaine or other narcotic in "Favorite Prescription." Neither does it contain alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant. It often happens that childlessness is due to conditions which may be corrected. Many women have found that the vitality and vigor imparted by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to the womanly organs, has been the one thing needed to fulfill the joy of motherhood. This famous medicine is not a cure-all, but a specialist's prescription, having as its single aim the cure of diseases peculiar to women.

Reliable dealers recommend "Favorite Prescription." With tricky ones, something else that pays them better will probably be urged upon you as "just as good." Perhaps it is for them; but it can't be for you. Some saving may be made by purchasing our medicines in half-dollar quantities.

If you are convinced that the "Favorite Prescription" is the medicine you need, do not be misled into accepting something else. The attempt to induce you to do so is an insult to your intelligence. Turn your back on the one who offers the affront.

DR. PIERCE'S PLEASANT PELLETS
Cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation of the bowels, loss of appetite, coated tongue, sour stomach, windy belchings, "heart-burn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.

Persons subject to any of these troubles would never be without a vial of "Pleasant Pellets" at hand. They are always adopted as a household remedy after the first trial. Put up in glass vials, tightly corked, therefore always fresh and reliable.

One little "Teller" is a laxative, two are cathartic. They regulate, invigorate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day. To relieve the distress arising from over-eating, nothing equals one of these little Pellets. They're tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds.

Doctor Pierce's great thousand-page "Common Sense Medical Adviser" will be sent for the mere cost of mailing; paper-bound for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. It is a grand and useful book. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Is one of the most common diseases. It manifests itself in local aches and pains, inflamed joints and stiff muscles, but it cannot be cured by local applications. It requires constitutional treatment acting through the blood, and the best is a course of the great medicine

The wholesale poisoning of raftsmen on the Big Sandy, in the mountains, last Friday, is the worst thing of the kind that ever occurred in Kentucky. A bag of wood alcohol was in the cargo of a pushboat bound for Pikeville. There were three boats with 17 men in their crews. A boat sank and the alcohol was taken ashore. The men opened the jug, in spite of the poison label, and drank the deadly stuff. Ten men died at once, or have since died, and two more are hopelessly ill. Three others are missing and their fate is unknown. The whole story is a temperance lecture that ought to affect the liquor business in all Eastern Kentucky.

It Was Tom Garnett.

A typographical error made the Kentuckian say Tuesday that "Mr. J. F. Garnett," of Casky, had sold his crop of tobacco. This was intended for Mr. J. T. Garnett and not Mr. J. F. Garnett, President of the Plasterers Bank and Trust Company, whose farm is on the Clarksville pike. The latter gentleman has not sold his crop.

A Fine Display.

Messrs. Forbes Manufacturing Co. are out doing themselves in their Christmas display. They are devoting all the front of their upper store to a display of all those things in cut glass, fine china and bric-a-brac, chafing dishes, toilet sets and carving sets that are so much in vogue as Christmas presents. It is by far the biggest display they have ever gotten up.

How Are Your Corns?

W. W. Gray, the West Seventh street colored barber and chiropodist, would like to remove your corns and bunions. His process is painless and perfectly safe, while his prices are reasonable. DISTRIBUTING POINT.

Storage Tanks Will Be Erected Here for Gasoline.

The Standard Oil Company will at once erect two large tanks for gasoline in this city, near the company's present oil tank. The gasoline used in this county all now comes from Henderson and the freight is about $3 on a 100-gallon drum. As the gasoline will be brought in carload lots under the new arrangement and Hopkinsville made a distributing point, it will be a considerable saving to consumers. Most of the gasoline burned in this section, is used for operating engines. The new storage tanks will be constructed by the first of the year.

OH, "DEAR!",

"Observer" Gives Description of Hunt for Venison.

Herdon, Ky., Dec. 21. On Friday morning, the 16th, Dr. S. W.
Johnston, while bird hunting near his home, about two and a half miles from here, discovered what he thought to be a large deer, with a spread of horns six or eight feet from tip to tip, standing in a clump of trees near him.

The Doctor was so badly frightened that he dropped his gun and broke for his home, which was hatched close by. After getting some distance from the place where he had seen the deer, he decided that he had better come on to town and get help instead of attempting the hunt by himself.

Joe and Chas Dawson, both old, enthusiastic, (in)experienced deer hunters, were the first to be informed of the find, and deciding that the three would be enough, they started immediately for the woods, where the deer had been seen. Of course they must have dogs, so Joe carried his two bob-tailed terriers, "Coffer" and "Dixie John."

As Chas was the oldest member of the company he was appointed captain. He decided it would be best to go by the railroad bridge, (he had two small steel traps set at a spring near that), saying that deer were foolish about spring water.
Not finding the deer in either of the traps, they then went to the woods.
Joe was to do the driving with his dogs. Doctor had a stand on the edge, and the captain, saying he had read in his "Blue-back Webster" that deer were dangerous when cornered, climbed a tree so he could see the deer when the dogs started him.

While the Doctor and captain were taking their stands (or climbs) the dogs jumped a small sized cottontail. Joe fired both barrels of his gun at him, as did the other stand-ers, as it seemed that the rabbit swung unhurt.

The doctor said the deer had "shrunk" a great deal, but the captain still maintains that it must have weighed 400 pounds. Maybe things look larger when seen from a height.

Dr. M. M. Fenner, Providence, N. Y.

Dear Sir: After a sickness of more than five years, I was tempted to try your Kidney and Backache Cure. It has been tried for over a year and about 20 doctors care at the beginning of my trouble.
It was thought to be only a local one, but as time wore on I became worse, so that at last I could not stand on my feet. Then my arms and hands became useless.

But at last after very long time the mental came back to me so that I could walk a little with the aid of crutches. The doctors helped me to this point and no further, and for 24 years I kept in the same condition.

Through the use of your Kidney and Backache Cure I am now in good health.
Will say, the doctors told me--all of them-- that there was no cure for me, because I was then suffering from Lo-Co-Moter Ataxia.

Litchfield, Ill.—Following the news of his election a statement was circulated that Congressman-elect Zeno J.
Rives, who will succeed Congressman Caldwell as representative from the Twenty-first district, could not be seated, as he was but 22 years of age, and that another election would have to be held. The statement is not true, for the new congressman is 30 years of age, and fully entitled to a seat in congress.

republican. He was born in Hancock county, Indiana, February 22, 1874, and came here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rives, when he was six years of age. He attended the city schools and in 1898 began the study of law, when he knew not where to look for assistance of any kind, financial or otherwise. He completed his studies in 1901, being admitted to the bar October 12 of that year. Shortly afterward he formed a partnership with A. H. White, which continued until June, 1903, when Mr. Rives was appointed to the office of city clerk.

to be so lame and sore at times that when I bent it was all I could do to straighten up again. The pains were always with me and I could not stand for any length of time without feeling them. I doctored at one time but did not obtain the slightest benefit. My attention was called to an advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills and I determined to try them. I got a box at Thomas & Trahern's drug store and after using them a few days I could not help but notice a marked improvement in my condition. My health is better than it has been in years. I give all the credit to Doan's Kidney Pills and strongly recommend them to others."
